DIWALI CELEBRATION

The spirit of Diwali illuminated every corner of Delhi Public School Harni on November 8th. All the classrooms sparkled with the warm glow of diyas, adorned with torans and rangolis crafted by the children themselves, creating a delightful ambiance for the festivities. The school witnessed a friendly competition, as each class vied for the title of the most aesthetically decorated, adding a touch of creative excitement to the celebration. In the true essence of Diwali, students went beyond decorations, contributing to the well-being of the environment. They passionately created posters highlighting the ill-effects of crackers, spreading awareness about the environmental impact. Furthermore, students shared guidelines on safely enjoying the tradition of bursting crackers, promoting a celebration that aligns with the principles of both joy and responsibility.

THE SHIVERING SPARROW

Poor little sparrow
I hope you are not in pain,
Shiver, shiver, shiver
In the pouring rain.

Dear little sparrow
Stuck out in the storm,
I wish a wish bring you,
To where it's nice and warm.

Oh! Yes, I want to bring you,
To where its nice and warm.

Dear poor sparrow,
You have a nest without a roof ,
And you can't rest,
I wish you had proof,
The rain is such a pest!
