He advised the students to come forward and fight for the country and never be hesitant to sacrifice their lives whenever it is needed to keep our country safe. He also included that we should enjoy this independence and work hard for the development and success of our country in any aspect they can. It may be defence, development of industries, education, agriculture etc.

Student performed dances, dramas, and sung songs in class activities. The students excelled in displaying their creativity and talents.

REMEMBRANCE

Misted the flowers, weep as light, dies,
Moon off, white silk, sleeplessly cries.
Stilled-Phoenix wings.
Touched -Red thread strings.

This song tells secrets that no one knows,
To fire the spring breeze it goes.
To you it flies,
Through the night skies.

Sidelong -eyes. How
White tears fell now!
Heart ? Pain? Come see-
In this mirror with me.

कविता – प्रेरणा

कशियाँ कहाँ मना करती है, तूफ़ानों से टकराने को
माँझी ही डर जाता है, अपने को आजमाने को ।
उम्र भला हमें कहाँ बूढा करती, जीवन को समझाने को
बस हम ही छोड़ देते है, अपनी भूल सुधारने को ।
मंजिलों की क्या हैसियत, जो हमें ना मिल पाए
ज़रूरी तो ये है कि हम ही पहुँचें, उन्हें महकाने को ।
गलती यह नहीं कि गलती हो गई, बात को बताने को
सच तो यह कि गलती कर रहे, खुद ही को बचाने को
असफलता एक चुनौती है, ना अपने से हारो मित्रों
भरोसा रखो अपने पर हरदम, अपनी हिम्मत जुटाने को ॥

" TEENAGE DREAMS "

The inception of life, with a glint of illumination
Breathing the first redolence of Earth
The candied impression of air on our frame
Making an appearance in this perplex world

Shattering the barricade of innocence
Approaching out of the comfort zone
Running behind academic validation
All we perceive is a new target each day

All we crave for is the teenage dreams
The life that we all desire to live
Working hard to attain all of them
Withstanding the phases of life with all our strength
And yet when we don't, we give it an another try.

Changing the schedules, till we stick to one Compromising with the favourites
So we could focus and not get diverted
The motto is to win something, you've to loose something

And at the end all we crave for is the teenage dreams
Some get it sooner, some get it delayed
Some work hard for it, some get it served on a plate
All we have to do is focus on our aim .

An Early Morning View

I sat near a window , imagining to be near a meadow .
Witnessing a beautiful morning ,
of which those rays gave a warning.

Looking at those freely moving trees ,
emitting a cold breeze .
Admiring the peace on the ground ,
when humans are not hustling around.

The animals are working hard already , with no frown ,
after all , it's we the humans who always ask for a crown
The roads are quiet as it's just five ,
yet I can see the birds already flying high.

Why do people refer early mornings as bleak?
They have a calming energy which all our minds seek.
Well, this morning, I saw nature's beauty on its peak
While the mankind was still asleep.

SORROW WHISPERS

*Feeling my way through darkness,
I didn't know I was lost.
They tell me I am not worth it,
Maybe I am,
but that does not make me less defining.
Stumbling upon the hurdles,
Makes my path of life never ending.
I have started the journey,
Not knowing where it will lead me.
They say I am too immature,
Too young to understand.
I don't want to open my eyes;
For this heartless world ditches me at every moment of my life.*

LAST DAY COME HERE

The last day of school come here
And yet doesn't feel real. It feels like yesterday
When we became friends till the end
When we started our own new trends
Since then so many days have passed
The days spent will never last
But if there is something that will
They are the memories we spent together here.

THE WINGS I HAVE ABANDONED

By Ranya Kulkarni (X-D)

The story I will tell you,
is nothing too special.
Just the tale of a man who hoped and dreamt of naught.
With a clouded heart,
he worked hard,
He tried and failed, tried and
failed.
In this endeavour he thought to be vain.
For this man had once,
Hoped and dreamt of flight.
He wanted to fly! How foolish!
The voices in his mind would berate.
But oh he wanted to fly!
And escape this deplorable life
of his.
So he made his own wings
Out of wax and feather
He tried and failed, tried and
failed.
In this endeavour he thought to be ludicrous.
How could this man
Hope and dream of flight ?

And now he stares at those wings
He could fly now! he could soar
now!
Though the voices in his mind
were stronger
Than his ecstasy and joy
And that sliver of accomplishment
Vanished as it came.
So now he screams at the wind -
'I tried and failed! Tried and failed!'
'in this endeavour that is futile!'
'How could I ever,
Hope and dream of flight?'
And now those wings lie astray.
Nothing but reminders
Of what I could have been
And as I look at them, I see...
Where I went wrong.
The fault wasn't in the wings,
But in my resolve
I had tried, and I had tried, and I had tried.
In this endeavour that was sensible.
But now my wings are broken
So what is the point !!!

My Achievements in the field of Aeronautics

I am Dhairya Shah of class VI-D an inquisitive child. I have a great interest in the field of aircraft. In this field I have several achievements like:

I have made an airplane Blog which will be published on a platform offered by Little Genius.

It all started when I went to visit an Air Force exhibition which was in a ground near a hospital at Ajwa Road where all the parts of a Fighter Jet were displayed. There was also an Air Force Commander whose name cannot be disclosed due to security purpose. He noticed my knowledge of aircraft and he asked me questions and I answered them all correctly and he was impressed by it. So he awarded me a special gift and told me to stay in touch with him. I also shared him my blogs and he was very happy with me, I also requested him if I could see an airshow and he replied "OK" and he invited us to the Darjipura Air Force Base to see the Air Show. We were told to sit in the VIP area and when I met him after the airshow he escorted me to a pilot and then he let me see the Air Show more closely and at the end also rewarded me again. As my curiosity grew about planes I told him that I wanted to see the Fighter Jets, so he made an arrangement and invited us to Jamnagar Air Force base. On our way to Jamnagar every hour they asked about our status. When we reached Air Force Base we were escorted around, First by a pilot then by the head of the meteorological department then by the head of flight operations, I also sat in the cockpit of a fighter jet and turned the battery on. After that for lunch they took us to eat where all pilots have their lunch. I was curious that how they monitor the weather. The pilots took me to the meteorological department and then they also offered me if I wanted to go to the Air Traffic Control Tower I said yes, so they took me to the ATC Tower. For moving around the Air Force Base they took their own car. The entire journey was really a memorable one.

My Other Achievements

Due to my presentation skills an academy named as little genius took me in an Advertisement of one of their programs named as Junior CEOs, my subject was marketing mix, a topic of M.B.A and the advertisement was uploaded on Facebook on the 14th of November, 2021 link.

<https://www.facebook.com/LittleGeniusOnline/videos/1154884925253897>

They also chose me among 15,000 students to go to Bombay for entering a program named Horses Stable which is much like Shark Tank where we went to the Magic Studio which is a little far from the city and in front of CEOs of India's top companies and my topic was intellectual Property Rights and after presenting my speech they were very impressed.
